Existence of Hector Bank.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (Notice to Mariners No. 157 of 1889) that information has been received that Mr. Madge, commanding the British Telegraph steamship Recorder, has reported having in January 1889 passed over the position formerly assigned to Hector Bank (removed from the Admiralty Charts in 1885 in consequence of its having been unsuccessfully searched for by a Netherlands surveying vessel) in the southern entrance to Carimata Strait, and obtained soundings of 7 to 8 fathoms, the extent of the bank being estimated as about 3 miles.

Mr. Madge states that on previous occasions, when commanding the British Telegraph steamship Agnes, he had passed over Hector Bank three times, the least depth then found being 5 fathoms.

Consequent on the above, Hector Bank, with a least depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, and 6 to 8 fathoms around (as originally reported), has been replaced on the Admiralty Charts in lat. $3^{\circ} 45\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $110^{\circ} 8\frac{1}{4}'$ E.

Bank North-West of Pratas Island.

THE British Admiralty has given Notice (No. 166 of 1889) that information has been received from Captain the Hon'ble F. C. P. Vereker, H. M. Surveying Vessel Rambler, that whilst proceeding to the vicinity of the dangers reported by the Dorothea, Alden Besse, and Cyclone (Hossack shoals), in order to search for them, a bank (Vereker bank) was struck, lying about 45 miles north-westward of Pratas Island :—

This bank of coral and shells, with a least depth found of 39 fathoms, is circular in shape, with a diameter, within the 100-fathoms line, of about 8 miles.

Position of 39 fathoms (situated about two miles westward of the centre of the bank), lat. $21^{\circ} 5'$ N., long. $115^{\circ} 59'$ E.

CAUTION.—As the examination of this bank only extended over two days, and the bank is of large area, it cannot be considered certain that no small dangerous patch exists. Currents are strong and variable in the locality, and it is by no means improbable that the positions given by the Dorothea and Alden Besse, which agree in latitude with that of Vereker bank, may be many miles in error in longitude.

Until thoroughly searched, this bank should therefore be regarded as a danger.

No indication of shoaling was found near the Hassock shoal or Dorothea, but bad weather prevented a complete search being made.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Simla, the 29th June 1889.

No. 3280.—The Governor-General in Council has determined to borrow two hundred lakhs of rupees, being the amount required for the public service.

The following Notification is therefore published:—

FOUR PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has resolved to borrow two hundred lakhs of rupees for the public service in the following manner.

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in Form A annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1854-55, of which Loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1854-55 will apply to the notes to be now issued.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 2,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller-General from this date to noon of Tuesday, the 30th July next. Tenders must be in sums of 500 rupees or multiples of 500 rupees.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller-General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed, "Tender for the Four Per Cent. Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India, to whom a letter of allotment may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer*—

- (a) Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches or from an officer in charge of some public treasury, or by a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller-General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, or

* Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants-General, Madras and Bombay, on account of the Comptroller-General, Calcutta, on the 29th July and up to 11-30 or 11 o'clock local time respectively (corresponding with 12 o'clock in Calcutta) on the 30th July; provided that—

- (a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at his office (where a receipt will be given for them);
 - (b) they are made on printed Forms, to be obtained at his office or at the local Presidency Bank;
 - (c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;
 - (d) that the deposit is either a promissory note, or a Treasury Receipt from the Head Office of the local Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in Madras or Bombay, respectively;
 - (e) that the amount of the tender is made payable either in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay;
- and he will return deposits on non-accepted tenders, and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras or Bombay.

Bombay, or in favour of the Accountant-General, Bombay or Madras, on a Bank in Bombay or Madras respectively in respect of tenders received by him, or by* Government promissory notes, standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit, for not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than five lakhs of rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender.

- (b) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionally in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 14 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits when they are not in the form of promissory notes will be credited as far as possible proportionately in even tens of rupees in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.
- (c) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up, and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

5. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

6. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees, or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

7. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller-General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

8. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller-General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Tuesday, the 30th July next, and those received under the terms of the footnote under clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountant-General, Madras, at 11-30 (Madras time), and by the Accountant-General, Bombay, at 11 o'clock (Bombay time), on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 10.

9. Tenders at the recorded minimum rate, and at rates above the recorded minimum rate, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender less than Rs. 500.

10. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part, such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller-General† as soon as possible after the 30th July; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted, for general information, at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

11. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates (after credit of the deposit under clause 4 (b)) will be made payable upon the 10th September.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments, as follows:—

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 13th August:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 10th September.

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 25th September:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words “as near as convenient” refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 500.

12. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller-General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations,

* It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller-General.

† For tenders received by the Accountant-General, Madras or Bombay, and payable at those places, the Accountant-General will issue the allotment-certificates.

provided that, if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

13. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by endorsement upon the relative certificate.

14. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 500), bearing interest from 1st January 1890, and he will also receive interest at 4 per cent. per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the last day of December 1889.

(b) Or he may, at his option, by paying interest at the said rate from 1st July 1889 to the dates on which he may have made payment, obtain promissory notes as above, bearing interest from 1st July 1889.

SALT.

The 29th June 1889.

No. 3207.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the subjoined rules made by him in the exercise of the powers conferred by the Indian Salt Act, XII of 1882, shall be published in accordance with the terms of section 29 of the said Act:—

1. These rules shall apply to the districts of the Bhagulpore Division of the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and shall have effect therein on and from the 29th June 1889.

2. The importation into any part of the territories to which these rules apply of the salt known in Calcutta and other parts of Bengal as “pakwa,” being salt which has been obtained in the manufacture of saltpetre, and on which the duty for the time being imposed under section 7 of the Act has not been paid at the place where the salt was obtained as on salt manufactured in the part of British India where that place is situated, is prohibited absolutely.

3. No substance included under the term “saltpetre” in section 3 of the Act shall be manufactured or refined, and no salt shall be educed therefrom, except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license as hereinafter prescribed.

4. Applications for licenses shall be made to the salt revenue officer in charge of the division or circle in which the works are situated, who may grant the application on receipt of the prescribed license fee.

5. No license shall be granted for the manufacture of crude saltpetre, or any of the other substances included under the term “saltpetre” in section 3 of the Act, unless the licensing officer is satisfied that the soil in the vicinity of the place of manufacture, and the soil from which the said crude saltpetre or other substance is to be produced do not contain such a percentage of chloride of sodium as to render the manufacture a source of danger to the salt revenue, and unless the works are so situated that they can without difficulty be supervised by the Salt Revenue Department.

6. As a general rule, no refinery shall be licensed until the parties applying for a license have satisfied the licensing officer that they are prepared to produce within the period of the license not less than two hundred maunds of refined saltpetre.

7. No refinery shall be licensed until the parties applying for a license have satisfied the licensing officer that the refinery buildings and premises are so constructed and surrounded by a wall as to afford full security for the levy of the duty on salt educed therein.

8. The following fees shall be levied in prepayment for licenses for each description of work:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For the manufacture and refining of saltpetre, including the eduction of salt therefrom	50	0	0
For the manufacture of saltpetre	0	4	0
For the manufacture of sulphate of soda (khari) by solar heat in evaporating pans	0	4	0
For the manufacture of sulphate of soda (khari) by artificial heat	0	4	0
For the manufacture of any other substance included under the term “saltpetre” in section 3 of the Act... ..	0	4	0

9. The license for the manufacture of crude saltpetre or other substance included under the term “saltpetre” in section 3 of the Act to be granted to persons not licensed to refine the “saltpetre” or educe salt therefrom shall contain the name of the person to whom it is given, and shall specify the place where such manufacture may be carried on and the approximate quantity of saltpetre which should be manufactured, and shall contain the following conditions:—

1st.—That the provisions of the Act and of all rules duly made under it shall be strictly observed by the licensee, his agents, and servants.

2nd.—That no process for refining the crude saltpetre shall be resorted to.

3rd.—That the plant specified in the license shall not be altered, or the locality of the works changed, without written sanction from the salt revenue officer in charge of the circle.

And shall be subject to such further conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe for the protection of the Government revenue.

10. The license for the manufacture and refinement of saltpetre and for the eduction of salt therefrom shall contain the name of the person to whom it is given, and shall specify the place where such refinement of saltpetre and eduction of salt may be carried on, and the approximate quantity of saltpetre to be refined, and shall also contain the following conditions :—

- 1st.—That the provisions of the Act and of all rules duly passed under it shall be strictly observed by the licensee and his agents and servants.
- 2nd.—That the refinery buildings and surrounding walls shall be kept in good repair to the satisfaction of the salt revenue officer in charge of the circle, and so as to afford full security for the Government revenue.
- 3rd.—That the number of pans and boilers specified in the license shall not be altered without the written sanction of the salt revenue officer in charge of the circle.
- 4th.—That the licensee shall maintain a daily register showing the quantity of crude saltpetre purchased or manufactured, of the saltpetre refined therefrom, and of the salt educed from such saltpetre, and of the quantities of any of these substances which may be sold and removed from the refinery.
- 5th.—That no saline substance other than refined saltpetre shall be removed from the refinery except with the written sanction of the salt revenue officer of the circle; and if the substance is by law subject to the payment of duty, on payment of two rupees and eight annas per maund of such substance, or of such other duty as may for the time being be imposed by the Governor-General in Council under section 7 of the Act: provided that, with the written sanction of the salt revenue officer of the circle, any saline substance subject to the payment of duty may without such payment be so removed for destruction at some convenient place outside the refinery under the supervision of the salt revenue officer of the circle, or other salt revenue officer named in the sanction.

And shall be subject to such further conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe for the protection of the Government revenue.

11. All licenses granted under these rules shall be for a period ending on or before the 31st July following the date of their issue, and shall on expiry be returned to the salt revenue officer.

12. Duplicates of licenses lost or destroyed during the period of their currency may be obtained on payment of one-quarter of the original license fee.

13. Every licensee shall produce his license for inspection when called upon to do so by any officer of the Salt Revenue Department not below the rank of Inspector or by any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

14. All licensed works and all premises connected therewith shall be open at all times by day or night to the inspection of any such officer or subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

15. All diaries, registers, books of account, and the like connected with the business of licensed works shall at all times be open to the inspection of any such officer or of any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

16. All salt shall be duly weighed and placed in a bonded storehouse under lock and key, which key shall remain in possession of the salt revenue officer attached to the refinery.

Subject to such directions as the Commissioner may give from time to time, it shall be at the discretion of the Superintendent or Inspector from time to time to cause such salt to be weighed in his presence and removed from the bonded storehouse. The licensee shall within twenty-four hours subsequent to such weighment and before the removal of the salt pay the duty leviable thereon.

17. When salt has thus been weighed and the duty paid, it shall with all possible dispatch be removed to a distance of more than one hundred yards from any part of the refinery premises under a pass signed by the said Superintendent or Inspector.

The pass shall be current for such period not exceeding twenty-four hours as may be deemed necessary for the removal of the salt.

A pass shall not be granted for a less quantity than twenty maunds, except for the purpose of emptying the storehouse.

18. Except as hereinbefore provided, or with the permission of the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue, no person shall possess any salt at any place within the limits of, or within one hundred yards from, the nearest point of any saltpetre manufactory or refinery and its appurtenances.

19. If any licensee under the foregoing rules fails during the period of the license to carry on effective working at the place at which he is licensed to carry on the same, the licensing officer may suspend the license until the licensee is prepared to resume effective working there.

20. In all cases in which illicitly manufactured salt or saltpetre is seized by any salt revenue officer below the grade of Superintendent, such officer shall at once proceed with the salt or saltpetre so seized, and any person concerned in the manufacture that he may have been able to arrest, and any independent witnesses to the seizure whose attendance he may be able to secure, to the nearest police post. The senior officer present at such police post shall receive from the seizing officer the salt or saltpetre so seized, and in the presence of witnesses and accused shall, after weighing and recording the weight of each, take from each distinct kind or quality of salt or saltpetre seized (if there be more than one such kind or quality) two samples of not less than one tola each, which he shall seal with the official seal of the police station, and after numbering them deliver them to the officer who made the seizure, recording at the same time a note on the printed form of seizure which will be presented to him, specifying the total weight of each kind seized according to the weighments made before him, and the corresponding numbers of the samples. The remainder of the salt or saltpetre shall be sealed up with the seal of the officer who made the seizure and of the police station, and shall remain in the malkhana or other secure place in such station until such time as a written order shall be sent by the Superintendent of the circle either for the destruction of the articles seized, which shall be carried into effect by the officer presenting such request in the presence of some officer of the police station, and the same certified on the reverse of the order, or for the delivery of the same, or part thereof, as the case may be, to the bearer of the order for production in Court.

21. When a seizure is made by a Superintendent in person, he may either follow the foregoing procedure, deputing one of his subordinates present at the seizure to take the salt or saltpetre to the station and receive the samples, or he may himself on the spot take out and seal up the samples and the rest of the seized salt or saltpetre with his own official seal. He may then either take the salt or saltpetre seized with him to deposit where he considers it will be safest, or send it for deposit to the nearest, or most accessible police station, to be kept, as in the previous case, until further orders. If, however, the Superintendent himself seals the salt or saltpetre, he must, in the event of the identity of the salt or saltpetre produced in Court being denied by the accused, be prepared to attend and prove the same in person.

22. When anything is seized and detained under the Act or the rules made under the Act, it shall not be released until all duty, penalties, and charges due on account thereof have been paid by the owner to the salt revenue officer who is in possession of such thing.

If the thing is reported for confiscation, it shall not be released unless orders for the release are received from competent authority.

23. If an animal is so seized and detained, the owner shall provide for its due care and keep, in default of which the animal may be sold to defray charges.

24. If orders are received from competent authority for the release of anything seized and detained, and no duty or penalty is payable in respect of such thing, it shall at once be given up to the owner or his agent on his paying all charges incurred.

25. Should no one be present to receive the thing released, the officer of salt revenue in charge shall do his best to give notice to the owner of the order of release, and shall cause a similar notice to be affixed on the office premises and at the Assistant Commissioner's office.

If within two calendar months from the date of the notice no person entitled to receive the thing claim it and pay all charges incurred, it shall be sold and the proceeds placed in deposit.

After a further period of three calendar months, the money shall be credited to the Government.

26. If any duty is leviable or penalty is imposed by competent authority in respect of the thing seized, unless such duty or penalty, together with all charges incurred, be paid within three days of the receipt of the orders of competent authority for release subject to such payment, the thing shall be sold, and from the proceeds the duty, penalty, and charges shall be deducted, and the balance made over to the owner or his agent. Should no one be present to receive the money, notice, as under rule 25, shall be given, the money being kept in deposit for three calendar months. If not claimed within that period, it shall be credited to the Government.

27. When orders are received from competent authority for the confiscation of anything seized and detained, it shall with all convenient despatch be sold or destroyed, as the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue may direct.

28. When a Magistrate orders the confiscation of works, materials, or implements under section 9 of the Act, they shall be sold or destroyed by dismantling or otherwise under the orders of the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue.

Appeals.

29. Any person who may be dissatisfied with an order passed by the Superintendent of a Circle may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner of the division; and any person dissatisfied with an order passed by an Assistant Commissioner may appeal to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

30. The Commissioner of Salt Revenue may prescribe all forms necessary for the administration of the Act and of these Rules.

No. 3209.—In exercise of the power conferred by the last paragraph of section 1 of the Indian Salt Act, XII of 1882, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to extend to the districts of the Bhagulpore Division of the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, with effect from the 29th June 1889, the whole of the said Act, except the portions thereof specified in the second paragraph of section 1, which are already in force in the said districts, and section 31.

From—The 'HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON, Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report, under section 30 of Act IV (B.C.) of 1883, of the jute screw and warehouses in the Town of Calcutta for the year ended 31st March 1889.

2. At the close of last year there were 70 sanctioned warehouses on the register within the limits of the Town. One new license was issued during the year. This makes up the total number of warehouses to 71. Of these, the licenses of two warehouses, viz. of No. 25, Hurro Chunder Mullick's Street, and 56, Strand Road, were cancelled during the year for default of payment of license fee, thus reducing the number at the end of the year to 69, of which a complete list, arranged according to the Acts under which they were originally licensed, is appended to this report.

3. Three applications were received during the year for licensing existing godowns for storage of jute. Of these one has been sanctioned at the Special Meeting held on the 17th January 1889, one has been withdrawn, and one has been refused for want of sufficient cart space.

4. The three applications which were mentioned in the last year's report as under consideration, viz., for No. 94, Dhurmahatta Street, Nos. 26, 27 and 28, Kassy Mitter's Ghat Street, and No. 79, Shoba Bazar Street, have been withdrawn.

5. The total of license fees realised during the year from the 69 warehouses mentioned above amounted to Rs. 21,975, or Rs. 525 in excess of last year. There were two cases of fire during the year under report—one at No. 11, Hurro Chunder Mullick's Street, and the other at No. 172, Ahireetollah Street. There was no infringement of the Jute Act on the part of the licensees.

6. The annexed statement will show the receipts and disbursements of Jute Warehouse Fund during 1888-89.

Abstract account of Receipts and Disbursements of the Jute Warehouse Fund for the year ending 31st March 1889.

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1888.

The Reports for the year 1887 and the orders of Government thereon.

The number of cognizable and non-cognizable cases reported in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta during 1888 and the two preceding years is shown in the subjoined statement:—

		1888.	1887.	1886.
Cognizable	{ Penal Code*	5,049	6,485	8,619
	{ Miscellaneous	19,336	21,566	29,716

	{ Miscellaneous	21,017	20,475	19,569
Total		53,940	55,092	63,663

* The division is not strictly accurate, as some offences under other Acts are included in this table with offences under

The increase in cognizable offences is due to a great increase in prosecutions for public and local nuisances, street nuisances, and offences under the Stage Carriage and Cruelty to Animals Acts as shown in the statement in the Public and local nuisances ...	2,646	5,110

Offences under the Cruelty to Animals Act ...	4,112	5,377

margin,* and is accompanied by a satisfactory decrease in the more serious forms of crime. The figures of true crime (including the suburbs) during the past three years are 3,451, 3,715 and 3,453 as compared with 3,532 offences reported in 1888. The continued decrease in non-cognizable offences is due to the fact that prosecutions are now generally instituted under clause 68A of the Police Act instead of Chapter XIV of the Penal Code or the Conservancy Act.

2. The number of persons arrested and summoned during the year was 69,377 as compared with 55,175 in 1887. The number of persons convicted was 61,865 against 48,334 in 1887; the percentage of convictions during the two years being 94.68 and 92.05 in cognizable offences, and 71.12 and 78.58 in non-cognizable offences in 1888 and 1887 respectively.

3. False cases.—Out of 51,663 cases in the town, only 87 were reported false, while in the suburbs 31 out of 12,000 cases were so returned. These figures show a marked improvement as compared with those of 1887, when the numbers were 119 and 63, respectively, in the town and the suburbs. The statistics of false cases in Calcutta and the Suburbs contrast remarkably with those for the mofussil. Thus taking the first five classes of cognizable crime (Statement A), there were in Calcutta 2,550 cases, of which 54 only, or 2.1 per cent. were declared false. In the Suburbs there were 982 cases, of which 25, or 2.5, were declared false. The corresponding figures in the mofussil show 80,082 cases, out of which 6,555, or nearly 8.2 per cent., were declared false. In class VI and miscellaneous cognizable offences, the difference is even more remarkable, as in Calcutta out of 26,665 cases only 5 were declared false, and in the Suburbs out of 8,138 cases all were reported true, while in the mofussil there were 30,275 cases, of which 116 were declared false. This is no doubt in great part owing to the fact that the police and all inferior public officers are for obvious reasons better supervised here than in the mofussil. The effect of the better supervision of public officers is especially marked in the very different results in class VI and miscellaneous cognizable cases, which are not as a rule instituted by private persons. Much, however, is also due to the fact that land disputes, which are the most common source of false cases in the mofussil, are comparatively rare in Calcutta and the Suburbs, and to the more summary powers of Presidency Magistrates and the greater finality of their orders. In the town 27 persons were prosecuted during the year, of whom 6 were fined in petty sums, and 5 were imprisoned for terms ranging from three months to one month. In 32 cases fines were inflicted, compensation being awarded in 26 cases under section 552 of the Criminal Procedure Code to the aggrieved parties. No case was instituted by any Court suo motu. In the suburbs prosecutions for false complaints were instituted in 19 cases, in two of which only fines were inflicted, and in two the complainants were imprisoned—one for one month, and the other for three months. In two cases in which prosecutions were not instituted petty fines were inflicted. These results are still far from satisfactory, especially in the suburbs, where prosecutions were singularly unsuccessful, and the sentences apparently inadequate.

4. Property stolen and recovered.—The value of the property stolen was Rs. 1,22,523 against Rs. 1,32,351 in 1887. Property to the value of Rs. 59,401 was recovered. The percentage of property recovered (48.48) was less than in 1887 (51.50), partly perhaps owing to the fact that a larger proportion of the stolen property consisted of coin and small notes.

5. Ratio of cognizable crime to area and population.—The ratio of cognizable crime to area and population in the Town and Suburbs was as follows:—

	Area in square miles.	Population.	Proportion of true crime to each square mile.	Proportion of crime to population.
Town ...	7.8	433,219	3737.95	1 to 14.85
Suburbs ...	23	251,439	395.43	1 to 27.64

6. Cognizable crime in the town.—The following table shows the number of true cognizable cases reported within the town during the last three years:—

CRIME.	1886.	1887.	1888.
Abetment of offence not committed
Class I—Offences against the State, &c.	43	49	43
„ II—Serious offences against the person ...	186	213	182
„ III—Serious offences against person and property ...	190	185	163
„ IV—Minor offences against the person ...	50	58	71
„ V—Minor offences against person and property ...	2,085	2,223	2,037
„ VI—Other offences not specified above ...	3,419	4,408	7,710
Special and local laws ...	14,359	16,009	18,950
Total ...	20,332	23,145	29,156

Though there has been an increase in all cognizable offences, there has been a decrease in offences against the State, person and property (excepting minor offences against the person).

Thirteen offences relating to coin were reported against twenty-five in 1887. The only serious case was one in which an ex-constable of the Howrah Police was sentenced to seven years' rigorous imprisonment for manufacturing base coin.

There were six murders against two in 1887. In two of these cases the accused were on conviction sentenced to transportation for life. In a third case the accused, who murdered his child-wife, was sentenced to death, while in a fourth a sentence of death was by the Lieutenant-Governor commuted to transportation for life. In the remaining cases no clue was obtained to the murderers. There were twenty-six cases of grievous hurt, against thirty-one in 1887 and thirty-seven in 1886. In one of the murder cases the question was raised as to whether the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code regarding the recording of confessions applied to the Calcutta Police. The question was decided by the High Court in the negative, and the question of how far Chapter XIV and other portions of the Criminal Procedure Code not now applicable to the Calcutta Police should be extended to them is now under the consideration of the Government of India.

In a theft case one of the accused, a lad of the mehter caste, complained that during the investigation Inspector Boyd had caused him to be suspended by his thumbs from a punkha with a view to extorting a confession, and he identified three native constables as having inflicted the torture. The Inspector and the constables were committed by the Chief Magistrate, Calcutta, to take their trial at the Sessions. The jury acquitted the Inspector by a unanimous verdict: in the case of the constables, a majority were in favour of an acquittal, and the presiding Judge accepted their verdict. In consideration, however, of the fact that the jury found that some hurt had been inflicted, Inspector Boyd tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and the native constables were dismissed from the force.

True cases of burglary fell from 164 in 1887 to 133 in the year under review. There was a satisfactory decrease of 148 theft cases as compared with 1887, and of 117 as compared with the average of the preceding four years. In 64 cases ornaments were stolen from children. Mr. Lambert remarks on this head—“Natives have not yet learned to appreciate the risk to which they expose their children by allowing them to play about in the streets wearing gold or silver ornaments. Hardly a day passes that the loss of a child with valuables on its person is not reported to the police, and the wonder is that thefts of this description are not more frequent.” Sir Stewart Bayley desires to express his entire agreement with Mr. Lambert as to the danger to which many native children are habitually exposed by this practice. Out of 534 persons charged under the Gambling Act, 499 were convicted, and in one case the keeper of a gaming house was sentenced to imprisonment without the option of a fine. The Commissioner of Police notes that cheefongah gaming houses were put down effectually at the close of the year 1887, and that there has been no revival of this evil. There were 2,632 cases and 2,702 convictions under the Stage Carriage Act, against 1,645 cases and 1,604 convictions in 1887. The offences were chiefly—(a) loitering for hire off stand, (b) carrying excess passengers, (c) driving without neck tickets, &c. Out of 17,559 persons placed on trial for committing offences under the Police Act (street offences), 17,464 or 99·45 per cent. were convicted. Mr. Lambert remarks he would “be glad if the police could be brought less into contact with a class of persons who only cause inconvenience and do not commit crime.” The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that this would be desirable, but does not see how anything is to be done to prevent it, as it cannot be left to municipal servants to take up such cases. 4,056 persons, or over 98 per cent., were convicted under the Cruelty to Animals Act, against 4,315 in 1887.

7. Cognizable crime in the suburbs.—The following is a comparative statement of true cognizable crime during the past three years:—

CRIME.		1886.	1887.	1888.
Class	I—Offences against the State, &c. ...	27	15	14
..	II—Serious offences against the person	62	77	53
..	III—Serious offences against person, and property ...	115	171	127
..	IV—Minor offences against the person	35	15	25
..	V—Minor offences against property ...	658	709	738
..	VI—Other offences not specified above	787	717	1,534
..	Special and local laws ...	2,241	3,073	6,604
Total ...		3,925	4,777	9,095

There was 1 case of murder against 2 in 1887. As there were some doubts as to the sanity of the offender, the capital sentence passed on him was commuted by Government to transportation for life. There were 21 cases of grievous hurt, against 29 in 1887. Convictions were obtained in 17 cases. Amongst these were three cases of facial mutilation of women by jealous paramours. The offenders were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from one to two years. There were 127 true cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass, against 188 in 1887, and an average of 116 cases during the preceding three years. In theft cases (549), there was a slight increase of 30 as compared with the figures for 1887. Both in burglary and theft less successful results were obtained in the Southern than in the Northern division. The Commissioner of Police states that this is in some measure due to the difficulties of detecting crime in the neighbourhood of the new Dock-works, where more than 10,000 strangers have been employed, of whom a large number belong to the thieving classes from Behar and the North-Western Provinces, and this is probably the true explanation. Under the heads of miscellaneous offences in the streets and cruelty to animals there was an increase of 3,548 cases as compared with the figures for 1887. The increase under the latter head is due to the fact that the Society employed more Agents in working the Act.

8. Non-cognizable crime in the Town.—The decrease in the number of cases has been explained in a previous paragraph. There were 15 cases of forgery in which 10 convictions were obtained. In one case two Hindus were sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment each for uttering a forged Government currency note of Rs. 1,000. In another case a Hindu was sentenced to six years' rigorous imprisonment for uttering 11 forged Government currency notes of Rs. 10 each. In a third case a large quantity of paper, cut into the size of Government currency notes, a water-line plate, and other implements of forgery were found in the house of one Mohendro Nath Chatterjee. He was on conviction sentenced to six years' rigorous imprisonment.

9. Non-cognizable crime in the Suburbs.—There were 2,880 cases, against 2,530 in 1887. The increase was under unimportant heads, and calls for no notice.

10. Suicides.—There were 84 cases in the Town and Suburbs as compared with 65 in 1887. Of the persons who committed suicide, 65 were Hindus, 12 Mahomedans and 7 Christians. In 36 per cent. of the cases death was caused by hanging, and in 30 per cent. by means of opium.

11. Accidental deaths.—The number of accidental deaths was 351, against 283 in 1887. 152 deaths were due to drowning, as against 89 in 1887, 32 were caused by falls from trees and buildings, and 32 by carriages or horses. One hundred and twelve drivers of public and private carriages were convicted for rash and furious driving out of 137 sent up for trial.

12. Arms Act.—The importation of fire-arms, principally of guns, increased from 1,616 to 1,889 in 1888. The statement in the report shows that 1,325 guns were imported in 1888 against 858 guns in 1887, but against this increase has to be set an almost corresponding decrease, namely, from 848 to 411 in the inland transport of guns. The number of guns sold in Calcutta was 2,709 against 2,415 in 1887, of which only 1,084 were of native manufacture against 1,501 in 1887. It appears that up to 1888 the retail price of the cheapest guns imported by any European firm was Rs. 150, but of late one firm has imported guns at Rs. 70. The imports of percussion caps have fallen from 29,294,500 in 1887 to 15,470,000, apparently owing to the fact that a very large surplus stock remained in hand at the close of 1887, while at the same time breech-loading guns have come into more general use. This explanation is borne out by the fact that there has been an increase in the transport of cartridges and cartridge cases. There were 35 prosecutions, all for petty offences.

13. European Vagrancy Act.—37 persons were admitted to the Workhouse under section 5 of the Act. 2 persons were deported to England during the year.

14. Fire-Brigade Act.—Twelve fires occurred in the Town, 14 in the Suburbs, and 7 in Howrah, resulting in a loss of property estimated at Rs. 12,53,480, against Rs. 67,355 in 1887. The most serious fire broke out in the Canal Jute Press, where a range of jute presses and of godowns containing about 50,000 maunds of jute were burnt. The fire lasted for five days, the loss being estimated at about Rs. 4,00,000. There were three other fires, at which the loss of property ranged from Rs. 1,19,490 to Rs. 3,00,000, on board a flat laden with jute, at the jute mill at Ghosery and at No. 1 Jetty. None of the fires was attended with any loss of human life. A new fire-brigade station was built at Chitpore during the year.

15. Strength and cost of the Police.—The total cost of the Town Police was Rs. 4,60,302 against, Rs. 4,72,168 in 1887, and that of the Suburban Police Rs. 1,60,066 against Rs. 1,55,676.

The cost of the Town Police was met as follows :—

	Es.
Paid by Calcutta Municipality	2,93,651-
Government contribution	97,884
Fees and fines	68,767
Total	4,60,302

The decrease in expenditure on the Town Police was chiefly under the heads of contingencies, clothing, repairs of buildings, &c.

The increased expenditure on the Suburban Police was due partly to the purchase of pugris for the constables and of a horse, and partly to increase in expenditure under other items of the head "Servants, rent, repairs and contingencies."

16. The Police Force.—The number of up-country men in the police was 1,957 against 1,942 in 1887, and the number of Bengalis was 181 against 163 in 1887 and 189 in 1886. The number of up-country men employed as officers was 98, against 78 Bengalis. The Commissioner of Police remarks: "No more unobservant creature can be found than the average rustic on his first arrival from Behar and the North-Western Provinces, and the faculty of observing things and men is, if naturally wanting, not readily acquired, and it takes years of training and instruction to make these new arrivals from distant villages at all familiar with the duties of a constabulary in a bustling city." It follows as he points out that to provide Calcutta with an efficient police, two distinct bodies are required—one for street and patrol duty, and the other for the higher duties of detection. Any change in this direction, however, will not be practicable so long as the existing financial pressure continues. The percentage of casualties in the force was 11·40, against 12·15 in the previous year. Only 16 members of the force were punished judicially, against 34 in 1887. Eighty-one men were dismissed, against 78 men in 1887 and 102 in 1886, and three men deserted against five in 1887. There were 31 deaths, giving a mortality of 10·49 per thousand, against 8·08 during the previous year, but this figure shows only the number dying in hospital. The number of vacancies was 337, against 361 in 1887 and 375 in 1886. There was a very satisfactory decrease from 167 in 1887 to 112 under the head of resignation.

17. During the year 286 certificates were granted for hotels, shops for the sale of excisable articles, and native eating-houses in the town, and 46 in the suburbs. The fees realized fell from Rs. 1,266 to Rs. 1,180 in the town, and from Rs. 460 to Rs. 198 in the suburbs. The decrease is due to the fact that licenses for liquor shops which were renewed in 1887 under the triennial system will hold good till 1890. Property to the value of Rs. 12,091 was picked up and brought to the Police Office, and 88 per cent. of the amount was restored to the owners.

18. Old offenders.—257 old offenders were convicted against 275 in 1887. Of these, 61 had been convicted more than three times. In the suburbs the corresponding numbers were 132 and 19 in 1888 as against 45 and 5 in 1887. On their release from jail 205 notorious offenders were photographed and their names registered by the Detective Department.

19. Judicial Work.—15,289 cases were instituted in the Northern Division, 15,820 in the Southern Division, and 18,941 before the Bench of Presidency Magistrates. The corresponding figures for 1887 were 15,685, 10,615, and 19,610. Of 43,360 persons appearing before the Courts, 40,819 were convicted and 2,418 acquitted. The ratio of conviction in cognizable cases was 97·36 in the Northern Court, 97·21 in the Southern Court, and 68·69 in the Bench Courts; the corresponding figures in non-cognizable cases (excluding conservancy prosecutions) being 65·17, 52·62, and 39·44 respectively. The total amount of fines imposed in the Southern Division was Rs. 46,421, of which Rs. 43,831 was realized; the corresponding figures in the Northern Division were Rs. 26,796 and Rs. 25,518. Sentences of whipping were passed on 51 persons, and 15 juvenile offenders were sent to the Alipore Reformatory. The total amount of fines imposed by Benches in municipal cases was Rs. 28,947 against Rs. 29,539 in 1887.

20. Benches.—While acknowledging the valuable assistance which the Honorary Magistrates have as a body rendered to himself and his colleague, the Chief Magistrate observes that a little more strict observance of punctuality on the part of some of them would largely enhance the efficiency of their Courts and save many unnecessary adjournments. The list of attendance shows that out of 104 Honorary Magistrates 14 have attended 20 times and more. Sir Stuart Bayley desires to thank these gentlemen for the assistance they have rendered to the administration of justice. Some 16 have never attended at all, and it is obvious that among these there are several who could never be expected to attend, and who should cease to hold an office which in their case is purely nominal. Besides these there are nearly 50 whose attendance has been less than once a month. It would appear also that some of the gentlemen whose names appear in the list given by the Chief Magistrate are not now in the country, or have resigned or are dead. It seems therefore necessary to revise the list after ascertaining from each Honorary Magistrate whether he wishes to continue to serve, and if so, whether he will be able to attend regularly in future. During the year the Lieutenant-Governor approved a set of revised rules framed by the Chief Magistrate for the guidance of Benches of Magistrates under section 21 of Act X of 1882. It is hoped that these rules will materially improve the working of the system of Benches.

21. Personnel of the force.—Sir H. Harrison] was Commissioner throughout the year, while the office of the Deputy Commissioner was held by Mr. J. Lambert. Mr. A. B. Barnard was Additional Deputy Commissioner. Now that the Chairman of the Corporation has ceased to hold the office of Commissioner of Police, the Lieutenant-Governor takes the opportunity of recording his appreciation of the manner in which Sir Henry Harrison has always supervised the work of the Calcutta Police. The main burthen of the executive duties has of necessity devolved always on the Deputy Commissioner, but it is greatly owing to the hearty co-operation of Sir Henry Harrison, and the wise spirit in which he has exercised his powers of control, that Mr. Lambert, as Deputy Commissioner, has been able to manage the force with the success and efficiency which have characterised his administration. Mr. Barnard's services also call for favourable mention. The names of the Superintendents and other subordinate officers favourably mentioned have been noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates and to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS FRONTIER FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

POLITICAL.

Darjeeling the 28th June 1889.

READ—

Letter from the Commissioner of Chittagong, No. ^{657H.T.}_{VI—20}, dated the 31st May 1889, forwarding the Report on the Administration of the Chittagong Hill Tracts Frontier for the year 1888-89.

1. The reports of the local officers are naturally mainly taken up with the raids which took place last year, and the punitive measures by which they were followed. An attempted attack on the village of Thamai Mrong Rajah, made in May 1888, was frustrated, as the attacking party found the village on the alert and retreated. With this exception there were no attempts at outrage up to December, and the Government of India, which was addressed by the Bengal Government as to the future policy to be adopted, decided that it would be sufficient to remain on the defensive, and merely to strengthen the outposts by sending to the Chittagong Hill Tracts 250 men of the 9th Bengal Infantry. This detachment arrived in November 1888.

2. The horrible massacre, however, which was perpetrated on the 13th December on the village of Pakuma Rani close to our post at Demagri shewed clearly that it was useless to trust to merely defensive operations, and it was resolved by the Government of India to despatch an expeditionary force into the Lushai country. But as the lateness of the season precluded any attempt to punish all the raiders, it was decided only to deal with those who had murdered Lieutenant Stewart and the men of his party in January 1888, and to establish an advanced post to be occupied during the rains and to serve as the base for future operations next cold weather. After troops had begun to arrive, and while preparations were being made for an advance, a raid took place in the Upper Chengri Valley on the 8th, 9th, and 10th of January, in which 24 villages were destroyed and 101 persons killed in the villages, while a large number of women and children, estimated at from 90 to 150, were carried off. In this case the raiding Chiefs live so far from the Chittagong Hill Tracts that it is probable the news of the expedition had not reached them at the time of their attack.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has laid before the Government of India a full expression of his views upon various questions connected with the operations of last season, and the measures to be adopted during the coming cold weather, and it will therefore be unnecessary to say more here than that the village of Howsata, to which some of the murderers of Lieutenant Stewart belonged, was burned down, no resistance being offered, and that an advanced post was established at Lungleh to serve as a base for next year's operations. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Forbes, and to the District Engineer for the way in which they worked to secure the success of the expedition. It is also satisfactory to note that the Chuckma Dewans sent labour freely, and that Sayipuya and his brothers, independent Chiefs, on seeing an expedition was really to take place, loyally assisted with guides and labour, attended the Durbar, and have since been sending information regarding Shendoo movements.

4. The annual Durbar was postponed till after the expedition was over, when the Commissioner held it at Lungleh.

5. Frontier trade has naturally fallen off in consequence of the unsettled state of the country. The Lieutenant-Governor will consider the advisability of sending experts with the expedition next year to enquire and report on the economic products and trading capabilities of the country.

6. The Frontier Force did excellent work during the past year, and though there was a considerable increase in the sickness and death-rate of the force owing to the exposure of the men, the number of other casualties, including dismissals, resignations, &c., fell from 48 to 21. It is satisfactory to note that the Deputy Commissioner attributes this to the loyal spirit excited among the men by the expedition. The recruits obtained last year are said to be an exceptionally fine set of men. The Deputy Commissioner complains that the average number of days spent by the men in hospital is greater than it need be owing to treatment of fever by cinchona febrifuge instead of by quinine. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will be asked to report upon this point. The cost of provisioning the force was Rs. 33,050-8-8, against Rs. 33,145-6-7 in 1887. There was a decrease from Rs. 9,468-4-7 to Rs. 7,544-4-8 under the head of "Cost of conveying provisions," as they were conveyed by contract labour which has proved cheaper than the coolie corps employed last year.

7. The coolie corps is now only employed on road making. The Commissioner reports that Mr. Carstairs, the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, took much interest in recruiting Sonthalis, and has sent out a good class of men who worked well and seemed pleased with the country. A road from Rangamati through Furwa to Pyramid Hill was commenced, but after portion of a length of 8 miles had been completed, the coolies were withdrawn for employment on the Rangamati-Pesquisurra road which had to be improved for the passage of troops. The Pesquisurra-Burkal road was at first entrusted to Bengali contractors, but it was afterwards found necessary to set the Sonthal coolies to work on it, as the Chittagong coolies were found to be almost useless for stone cutting and building causeways across the nullahs.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, d drizzling rain, p passing temporary showers, t thunder, < lightning.

CALCUTTA, the 21st June 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS
TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-TIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 28TH OF JUNE 1889.

AT the close of the previous week the general meteorological conditions were those of the rainy season, slightly intensified by the fact that a feeble low pressure area existed along the line of the hills to the north of the province, which caused the rainfall to be particularly heavy in Assam, North Bengal, and North Behar. On the 22nd of June, or the first day of the present week, the pressure changes were small, and the slight low-pressure area extended from the north of the province over the greater part of Behar. Rainfall was, however, on this day to a great extent absent from all districts, particularly from Orissa, South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar. On the 23rd the only change of importance was the setting in of a somewhat strong westerly current, so that on this day a westerly element made itself felt in the wind directions as far to the eastward as Dhubri, Sibsagar, Mymensing, and Dacca. This change was perhaps due to an extension of the Bombay branch of the monsoon current sweeping across Central India and making itself felt over the greater part of the province of Bengal. Apparently by the interaction produced by this inrush of westerly winds which were driving back the south-easterly and easterly winds previously blowing, very heavy rain was produced, and on this day a considerable number of stations in the east and south of the province reported falls of two, three, four, and in some cases of five inches. On the 24th pressure had fallen in all districts, and the changes had induced the formation of a distinct low-pressure area in the north-west angle of the Bay, which was attended by a fairly complete cyclonic circulation of winds, though the wind force in the neighbourhood of the depression was small. Again fairly heavy rain was recorded on this day in most districts of the province. On the 25th pressure had again fallen, the fall being largest at the stations near the depression, which had thus slightly but distinctly intensified. On this day the centre of the depression was to the south of Saugor Island and to the east of False Point. The cyclonic circulation of winds was still very complete, but the wind force continued small. The rainfall on this day was decidedly lighter than it had been, particularly at the stations near the head of the Bay, though over parts of North Bengal and Behar decidedly heavy rain continued to fall. The depression continued to intensify slowly but decidedly during the 25th, and on the 26th it was a small but well formed storm, and on the morning of this day the centre was probably not very far from False Point. Under these circumstances the appropriate storm-signals were hoisted at the stations in the river Hooghly and also along the coast of Orissa. Again on this day rainfall was usually rather light, though fairly general. The centre of the small storm gradually advanced to land during the day, and passed across the coast between False Point and Balasore during the night of the 26th, and on the morning of the 27th it was well inland to the west of Balasore. The cyclonic wind circulation was again well defined, but the wind velocities near the centre of the storm as shown by the observations at the coast stations were rather small. In the rear of the storm, however, decidedly strong winds with squally or even stormy weather existed, and with the inland passage of the small storm very strong winds with squally weather set in on the Orissa coast, a gale of wind blowing at Gopalpore and along the coast for some time. With the advance of the depression inland, the storm-signals were lowered in the forenoon of the 27th. On the morning of the 28th the centre of the small storm had advanced in a north-westerly or west-north-westerly direction to near Saugor. With the inland advance of the small storm the rain-bearing current from the Bay again commenced to flow uninterruptedly over the province, and towards the end of the week general and rather heavy rain commenced again to fall at almost every station.

The week has therefore been a decidedly favourable one for rainfall in almost all districts. The falls have been very largely in excess of the normal in Behar, and indeed considerably more than twice the normal fall, while heavy falls have also occurred in Orissa, South-West Bengal and North Bengal, where they have also been decidedly larger than the average for the period. On the other hand, in Chutia Nagpur and East Bengal the falls have been almost normal in amount.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been below the normal at almost every station both in Bengal and Assam. The average defect varies from about 0.02 inch to 0.03 inch.

Temperature.—The temperature changes during the week do not call for any particular comment. The mean temperature for the period has been nearly 3° below the normal in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, but in other districts of Bengal, as well as in Assam, the mean temperature has been almost normal, though in most cases slightly above it.

Rainfall.—Has been very heavy during the week. In North Behar an average fall of nearly seven inches is reported, or about four inches in excess of the normal. In North Bengal the fall averages nearly six inches, and is also nearly an inch in excess of the normal. In South Behar the fall averages four and a half inches, which is about twice the usual fall, while in East Bengal the actual fall is about equal to that in South Behar, while this fall is almost equal to the normal. In Orissa and South-West Bengal the falls average about three and a half inches, which are from an inch to an inch and a half in excess of the normal, while in Chutia Nagpur the falls have averaged two and a half inches, or practically a normal fall. In Assam, also, heavy falls have been received. Dhubri, during the week, has reported 9.84 inches, Sibsagar 5.76 inches, and Silechar 5.29 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 28th of June 1889 :—

MEMORANDUM.

FROM the annexed table, exhibiting the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal (excluding the Chitpur and Cassipur, and Manicktolla Municipalities in 24-Pergunnahs, which have recently been constituted as such since the amalgamation of the greater portion of the suburbs with the town of Calcutta, and the required statistics from which have not yet been, nor are likely to be soon, received) for the month of April 1889, it appears—

1. That 157,130 deaths occurred among a population of 65,801,256, representing an annual death-rate of 28·56 per 1,000, against 20·64 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 23·88 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of the preceding year, indicating, as compared with both the periods, a considerable advance in the number of deaths registered.

2. That the following districts returned the highest proportions of deaths:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille. indicating chiefly in comparison with the figures for the corresponding month of the preceding year a large increase of mortality from cholera and fever, particularly from the former.

4. That the highest fatal results from cholera, small-pox, fever and the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes" were returned from the following districts:—

SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BRIGAL,

The 29th June 1889.

W. H. GREGG, Dip. Publ. Health, Camb.,
Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 15th June 1889, the returns of the vital statistics of the principal Municipalities in Bengal presented the following results:—

1. The birth-rate amounted to 18·1 per 1,000 of population against 19·6 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 8th June, and the death-rate to 22·2 per 1,000 against very nearly the same ratio, viz. 22·5 per 1,000, indicating a retrogression in the registration of births.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths:—

Births.				Deaths.
			Ratio per mille.				Ratio per mille.
Comillah	46·2	Poori	216·1
Narainganj	37·3	Gya	28·7
Rampore Beaulah	34·2	Durbhanga	28·3
Durbhanga	33·8
Darjiling	32·6
Monghyr	31·6
Chupra	29·3

3. During the week under notice the mortality from cholera increased noticeably, while the death-rate from the diseases coming under the head of "Other causes" declined considerably, that from the other death-causes showing only small differences, as shown in the subjoined table:—

				Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
				15th June 1889.	8th June 1889.
Cholera	5·8	3·1
Small-pox	·5	·7
Fever	7·3	7·4
Bowel-complaints	2·6	3·4
Injury	·5	·5
Other causes	5·4	7·4

4. The Municipalities named below appear to have suffered most from the diseases (excepting bowel-complaints and injury, which exhibited no local severity) indicated in the foregoing table:—

Cholera.		Small-pox.		Fever.		Other causes.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
Poori	... 163·7	Chupra	... 2·9	Gya	... 21·2	Bhagulpore	... 18·1

Patna	... 5·5					Serampore	... 9·8
Howrah	... 2·9

It will be noticed that cholera prevailed with most appalling severity in the Poori town, its prevalence being no doubt associated with the presence of large numbers of pilgrims who resort there to witness the Rath Jatra festival which takes place in June.

5. The mortality of the week classified under the heads of Sex, Class and Age, stood as follows:—

According to Sex.		According to Class.		According to Age.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
Males	... 22·4	Christians	... 13·1	Under 1 year	... 150·6
Females	... 22·1	Hindus	... 25·0	1 and under 5 years	... 36·7

* The census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the census before that time was not necessary to re-census them.

INCREASES.

Coal	Tons.
For railway and flotilla purposes.	180
Jute	229
This increase is in local booking from Khoolna. There is a decrease in jute through booked from the Bengal Central Flotilla.
Oilseeds	599
This increase is contributed by Khoolna principally, and also by Bongong, Benapool and Singha. There was an excited market in linseed during the month, causing an advance of 6 annas per maund in the price.
Sugar	1,334
Nearly the whole of this increase is contributed by Jhikargachi—Maslandpur, Gobardanga and Jessore show fair increase also. There was a firm demand in Calcutta during the month, and very small stocks to meet it.

DECREASES.

Rice	126
Other grains	849
These decreases are the result of a partial failure of the crops in the district.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 67.)

AFRICA—EAST COAST.

MOZAMBIQUE CHANNEL.

Amended particulars of St. Lazarus Bank.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 178 of 1889) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

An error of five miles having crept into the latitudes quoted in former Notice to Mariners on this subject, No. 107 of 1889, the amended particulars are herein republished, and the former Notice is hereby cancelled.

The following information relating to St. Lazarus bank has been received from Commander T. F. Pullen, being the result of an examination made by H. M. Surveying Vessel Stork and her boats extending over six days, from 3rd to 8th February 1889:—

The area of the bank within the depths of 100 fathoms is of oblong shape, 11 miles long north and south, with an extreme breadth of 6 miles, and is included between the parallels of $12^{\circ} 7'$ and $12^{\circ} 17'$ S., and long. $41^{\circ} 20'$ and $41^{\circ} 26\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

The general depth was found to be under 20 fathoms, the nature of the bottom being sand and coral. The shoalest part within the depth of 10 fathoms is near the northern end of the bank, and is about 4 miles long in a north-west direction and 2 miles broad; the least depth found of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms being confined to a small coral patch in lat. $12^{\circ} 8'$ S., long. $41^{\circ} 21\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

Beyond the depth of 100 fathoms the soundings increase rapidly; at 6 miles north-east of the shoalest part, 1080 fathoms were found, and at 14 and 25 miles eastward of the shoal part 1308 and 1131 fathoms were obtained.

A regular tide was observed when at anchor on the bank, the flood setting E.S.E. about 4 hours, and the ebb W.N.W. about 7 hours, with about half an hour slack water; the strength at springs was 2 knots; the rise and fall approximately 12 feet. It is probable that at a little distance from the bank, and when out of the influence of the tidal streams that exist upon it, the currents vary in direction and velocity at different times of the year.

Fish in abundance were caught on the bank.

Having regard to the nature of this examination as detailed by Commander Pullen, it is considered that the several shoal soundings hitherto reported on or near St. Lazarus bank fall within the area assigned to it by H. M. S. Stork.

(The bearings are Magnetic. Variation 12° Westerly in 1889.)

This cancels Notice to Mariners issued by this Office No. 42, dated 11th May 1889.

Existence of Hector Bank.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (Notice to Mariners No. 157 of 1889) that information has been received that Mr. Madge, commanding the British Telegraph steam-ship Recorder, has reported having in January 1889 passed over the position formerly assigned to Hector Bank (removed from the Admiralty Charts in 1885 in consequence of its having been unsuccessfully searched for by a Netherlands surveying vessel) in the southern entrance to Carimata Strait, and obtained soundings of 7 to 8 fathoms, the extent of the bank being estimated as about 3 miles.

Mr. Madge states that on previous occasions, when commanding the British Telegraph steam-ship Agnes, he had passed over Hector Bank three times, the least depth then found being 5 fathoms.

Consequent on the above, Hector Bank, with a least depth of $8\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, and 6 to 8 fathoms around (as originally reported), has been replaced on the Admiralty Charts in lat. $3^{\circ} 45\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $110^{\circ} 8\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

Bank North-West of Pratas Island.

The British Admiralty has given Notice (No. 166 of 1889) that information has been received from Captain the Hon'ble F. O. P. Vereker, H. M. Surveying Vessel Rambler, that whilst proceeding to the vicinity of the dangers reported by the Dorothea, Alden Bessie, and Cyclone (Hossack shoals), in order to search for them, a bank (Vereker bank) was struck, lying about 45 miles north-westward of Pratas Island :—

This bank of coral and shells, with a least depth found of 39 fathoms, is circular in shape, with a diameter, within the 100-fathoms line, of about 8 miles.

Position of 39 fathoms (situated about two miles westward of the centre of the bank), lat. $21^{\circ} 5' N.$, long. $115^{\circ} 59' E.$

CAUTION.—As the examination of this bank only extended over two days, and the bank is of large area, it cannot be considered certain that no small dangerous patch exists. Currents are strong and variable in the locality, and it is by no means improbable that the positions given by the Dorothea and Alden Bessie, which agree in latitude with that of Vereker bank, may be many miles in error in longitude.

Until thoroughly searched, this bank should therefore be regarded as a danger.

No indication of shoaling was found near the Hassock shoal or Dorothea, but bad weather prevented a complete search being made.

The decrease in civil suits is explained at some length by Mr. Carstairs, but his explanations would have been easier to follow had he given the figures for the different sub-divisions. In Pakour institutions have continued to increase owing to the large number of decrees by consent in land cases, the result of an arrangement by which purchasers doubtful of success, if sued by the headman or zemindar of the village on the ground that their consent had not been obtained, have agreed to give up the land if they got back their money. Decrees are recorded by the court stating the instalments in which the money is to be repaid. The Sonthals are reported to be paying their instalments punctually, and much credit appears to be due to Mr. Smith, the Sub-divisional Officer, for the success of the system which has been adopted as a cheaper and safer way of getting the price secured than a registered bond. A substantial decrease in three out of the other five sub-divisions is attributed partly to the fact that jotes not being any longer freely sold in execution of decrees, creditors are not so willing to close accounts by suit. It is probably also partly due to the bad harvest, while in Rajmehal another reason is that the changes in procedure introduced by Mr. Inglis have not been fully adopted by his successor, Mr. Monahan. Mr. Carstairs does not state whether the explanation given by Mr. Monahan to the effect that Mr. Inglis' practice of frequently taking up and deciding cases at Sahibgunj took up too much time, is valid or not. In rent suits there has been an increase in Deoghur, attributed to the bad harvest, making tenants less punctual in payment of their rents; but it is not explained why that sub-division should have been alone affected in this way. In Godda the fall is reported to be due to the fact that the Barkope zemindars have appointed a joint tehsildar, and that they no longer harass ryots by bringing suits on separate accounts. In Rajmehal many rent suits were formerly brought to establish titles to land, and it is said that the disputes which gave rise to these cases have now mostly been settled. As regards title suits, Mr. Carstairs quotes the explanation of his Sub-divisional Officers generally without any comment, though some of the explanations, such as that from Jamtara, where the fall is attributed to want of money and unreadiness of recent purchasers to come into court, require elucidation. The decrease appears to be due to the settlement of the land question in all the sub-divisions except Godda, where there has been a rise owing, it is said, to cases on the sale question remanded in 1886 being taken up and decided in 1888. Mr. Carstairs does not explain why it is that in this sub-division the disposal of these cases has been delayed. Execution cases have not decreased in the same proportion as suits, and in title cases they have increased owing to the disposal of the sale question, pending which execution was in many cases not taken out.

2. Receipts of Courts.—Receipts fell from Rs. 69,907-1-10 in 1887 to Rs. 69,240-5-6, owing no doubt to the fall in the number of suits. In Rajmehal the fall is also said to be partly due to the steps taken by Mr. Monahan to simplify procedure and so to diminish the number of petitions and processes each needing a stamp. The Deputy Commissioner has again dismissed the subject of valuation of suits in some brief and inconclusive remarks, instead of submitting a special report. Attention was called to this subject as far back as July 1886, and in last year's Resolution it was pointed out that the subject was not one to be dismissed in a short paragraph, but that a separate report should be submitted. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that these orders will now be carried out.

3. Practice and procedure.—The decrease in the number of cases disposed of is apparently largely due to the fact that Doomka and Godda sub-divisions were short of officers for some time. There has been a decrease in the number of cases struck off and compromised, most marked in Rajmehal, where the Deputy Commissioner had in 1887 to insist on postponements not being granted without due cause, and on greater promptitude in despatch of cases. As Mr. Carstairs points out, however, a large number of cases are brought for very small sums of money, and parties residing at a distance from the courts will frequently settle them out of court in order to save further expense. He also attributes the dismissal of some cases to the difficulty of impressing on an ignorant litigant the date fixed, and proposes to overcome this in future by directing that plaintiffs are to be given a slip with the date written on it.

The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the Deputy Commissioner's proposals to improve procedure by insisting on viva voce complaints being taken in simple cases, and enlisting the help of leading villagers by setting them to try suits as arbitrators in the presence of the hakim. He desires that in next year's Report it be noted how the system has worked. Mr. Carstairs' proposal to reduce the unnecessary labour thrown on the Civil Court establishments by simplifying the Civil Court returns is under consideration in the Judicial Department.

4. Appeals.—Appeals have continued to decrease partly owing to the fact that Mr. Carstairs having now been some time in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, it is known how cases will be viewed by him, and partly to his efforts to check frivolous appeals and applications for revision by calling to account petition-writers and summarily rejecting applications for revision made without reasonable ground.

5. Staff.—The Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to re-open the question of reviving the Sonthal Commission, as proposed by the Deputy Commissioner. He fully recognises, however, the importance of allowing officers posted to the Sonthal Pergunnahs to remain there for long periods, as it is necessary they should be intimate with "the language, the people, and the system." The Deputy Commissioner has submitted separately a report regarding the inadequacy of the ministerial staff which has been dealt with in the Revenue Department.

6. Sir Steuart Bayley notices with satisfaction the Deputy Commissioner's efforts to improve procedure. His report is not, however, altogether satisfactory. He has failed to take notice of the Lieutenant-Governor's remarks on several points in his report for 1887, and he has in too many cases merely repeated the remarks of his sub-divisional officers without any comments even where this was required. Mr. Carstairs has on previous occasions stated that bhaoli holdings are not recognized by the Sonthal Courts, and his repetition of the fact this year does not satisfy the Lieutenant-Governor's call for more detailed information as to the extent to which such holdings actually exist and as to their increase or decrease. The remarks concerning the merits of officers will be noted in the Appointment Department.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0.5 higher; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE CALCUTTA GAZETTE, JULY 10, 1889.

Table of Rainfall recorded at Stations

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF JUNE 1889.

THE month of June is, from a meteorological point of view, almost the most important month of the whole year in Bengal, for it is in this month that the south west monsoon usually establishes itself over the province, and generally over the greater part of Northern India. The case of the setting in of the rains at the beginning of June has been discussed in the monthly reports of previous years, and it is therefore not necessary to repeat this description. It has also been pointed out that the rainfall in the south-west monsoon is not due to a perfectly steady and continuous action, but that it occurs rather as a series of waves or pulsations, a strong wave of rainfall being followed by a period of comparative calm and absence of rainfall, and it is during the latter that frequently small barometric depressions or cyclonic storms are formed, generally over the sea area, and which, after developing for a few days, advance over the land, bringing heavy rainfall to the districts through which they pass. With reference to these storms, it may also be said that the longer the period during which they are forming, the more intense they will be. So far also as has been ascertained up to the present time, it would appear that, during a comparatively weak monsoon, the periods of comparative cessation of rainfall are more frequent and are of longer duration than during a monsoon of normal strength, and thus weak monsoons are frequently characterized by the number and comparative intensity of the cyclonic storms or barometric depressions which visit the land, while during years when the monsoon is equal to or above its normal strength, these storms occur but seldom, and they are of little intensity.

The distribution of the normal rainfall in June is to a certain extent similar to that of April and May, but much heavier. The lines of equal rainfall run nearly north and south through the province, the heaviest fall occurring in East and parts of North Bengal and the smallest in the western parts of Behar. In the former districts rainfall varies from 25 to 35 inches, while at Buxar it is less than 5 inches.

The most important meteorological features of June are, therefore, the date of the commencement of the south-west monsoon, its strength, the area over which it acts, the occurrence and parts of cyclonic storms, and the amount and distribution of the rainfall.

Meteorology of the month.—In the early part of the month numerous signs appeared of the early approach of the monsoon, rain was falling steadily in Assam, and the area of rainfall was gradually extending over East and North Bengal. In consequence of the high pressure in the north-east corner of the province, and the seat of lowest pressure being over South Bengal, the monsoon current received a decided deflection to the west, and in consequence a slight depression with cyclonic circulation formed in the north-west corner of the Bay, the first symptoms appearing about the 9th. The wind velocities at the coast stations remained light throughout, and stormy weather never came far north, but the disturbance is of importance as causing the commencement of the rains all over the province.

Small storm of the first half of the month—The depression began to show signs of forming on the 5th, but remained unchanged till the 9th, when the fall of the barometer on the Orissa coast with a general rise elsewhere, and the cyclonic circulation showed that it was intensifying. The storm, however, did not much further develop. A slight fall took place, and the centre being then near the coast, it was found to consist of more than one small whirl in the area of low pressure. One of these passed inland on the 10th between False Point and Sangor Island, after which it filled up, moving in a north-westerly direction. The second of these centres reached the coast on the 11th, and was then controlling the light winds which were blowing over the whole province. On the following day it was over the centre of Bengal, moving in a north, north-easterly direction, passing between Bogra and Mymensingh on the 13th, it reached the hills on the following day, giving low pressures over North Behar and part of North Bengal. Though stormy weather did not accompany the depression, yet over the Bay to the south of the area where it developed, strong winds were blowing as shown by the observations supplied from the logs of vessels passing through on the 9th or 10th. A wide area of low pressure remained over Bengal.

Second depression from 16th to 19th—While pressure still remained low over the greater part of Bengal, a further intensification commenced in the north-east angle of the Bay. The resulting depression was very feeble and badly defined, but was accompanied by a distinct cyclonic circulation. On the 17th the centre of wind circulation was near Jessore, but the centre of lowest pressure was scarcely distinguishable. A rapid rise of pressure took place to the east, and the low-pressure area moved rapidly towards Central India. This depression which had existed for some days over Bengal had an important influence on the rainfall, as it diverted the western monsoon current to the east to such an extent that decidedly westerly winds blow over the greater part of Bengal and Assam for several days after it filled up.

Third depression from the 24th to 28th.—A general fall of pressure occurred on the 24th, and a depression appeared in the north-west angle of the Bay, accompanied by a fairly complete cyclonic circulation of light winds. It intensified on the 25th and 26th, and had then become a small, well-defined storm near False Point. It crossed the coast between False Point and Balasore during the night of the 26th, and on the following morning was to the west of Balasore, after which it moved away in a north-westerly direction. These storms have all been peculiar, in that they have had very little influence in strengthening the winds in their immediate neighbourhood. The wind force at all the coast stations, while the low-pressure area was still over the Bay, was very small, but further south decidedly strong winds with stormy weather prevailed. After the last one passed inland, a gale of wind blew at Gopalpur and along part of the Orissa coast for some time, but the weather was never seriously disturbed at head of the Bay. This is shown in the table giving the average actual and normal wind velocity per day. The only stations where the variation is at all a large excess are Gopalpur, Diamond Island, and Akyab, and in a less degree False Point:—

STATIONS.	Actual average wind velocity for June 1889.	Normal wind velo- city in June.	Variation of actual for June 1889 from normal.

The influence of these small storms on the rain distribution has been very decided. With the inward movement of the first, the area of heavy rain gradually extended from East and North Bengal to South-West Bengal and Orissa. The monsoon broke in these districts about the 11th, and in Behar a day or two later, though rain did not become general there till after a few days. Up till the 15th rain in Behar continued to be in defect. As before mentioned, the high pressure which obtained in North Bengal during the first week had a decided influence in giving a westerly movement to the monsoon current during the second week, and this resulted in some of the eastern districts receiving less than the normal fall. The districts where rainfall has been most decidedly in defect are on the eastern side of the province, South-East Bengal and Chittagong, and the extreme north-east corner. This defect may be partly due to the influx of the west coast monsoon, which took place after the filling up of the second depression, but that it is partly due to the westerly deflection of the Bay current is shown by the table of wind velocities, where the stations reporting defective wind velocity are all on the east side of the province. On the commencement of the depression in the north-east corner of the Bay the westward set ceased, and the current blowing on the Burmah and Arakan coasts passed along the east side of the province, but the western current which shortly afterwards flowed in, gave very heavy rain over the greater part of Bengal. During the short interval between the forming of the depression and the setting in of westerly winds there was partial cessation of rain. Scarcely any break occurred during the interval between the second and third depressions, but on the 25th rainfall was generally lighter. With the filling up of the last depression the Bay current again flowed freely over the whole province, and generally heavy rain continued till the end of the month.

Pressure—Has been in excess during the greater part of the month. At the commencement the highest pressure was in Orissa and North Bengal, and there was a large excess in Assam. The only case of defect was in Behar. During the second week of the month the defect disappeared and pressure became very uniform over the province, but was still high. It diminished during the third week in consequence of the low-pressure area which extended over the greater part of the province, and towards the end was replaced by a general defect. The fall of pressure which resulted in the defect was in connection with the two small storms which passed over the centre of Bengal—one towards the hills, causing there a low pressure and along the foot of the hills for some days, the other to Central India. The mean for the month is in excess in all districts. The largest excess is in the mean of North Bengal, about '025 inches; excepting Chutia Nagpur, where it is about '01 inches, the excess for all other districts is about '02 inches.

Temperature—Was largely in excess in some districts during the first week, and nowhere in defect. The largest excess was in Chutia Nagpur, amounting to 8°, while in South-West Bengal, North-Bengal, and North Behar the excess was about 4°. After the commencement of the rains in the second week, temperature fell considerably everywhere, the mean defect for the whole province amounting to about 2°. In Orissa and South-West Bengal temperature was then very nearly normal. During the third week rain partially ceased and temperature began to rise, but not rapidly. In North Bengal and North Behar excess was more than 1°; in East Bengal there was also a slight excess, but a defect of 3° remained in Chutia Nagpur. During the last part of the month temperature again fell slightly, and the mean nowhere differed largely from the normal, except in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur, where there was a defect of about 3°. The mean for the month is in excess in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpur. The largest of these is 1° in North Behar, and 0·9° in South-West Bengal. In the other districts, North Bengal and South Behar, there is a defect of about half a degree.

Rainfall.—As stated above, rain has been heavy and fairly continuous in East and North Bengal from almost the beginning of the month. The extension of the monsoon from Assam to these districts was followed by almost general rain during the latter half of the second week of the month. Up till then, however, only light showers had fallen in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. After that heavy rain fell everywhere, and only a few stations have received less than the normal, while in many there has been a large excess.

METEOROLOGICAL DIVISION.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	Actual rainfall of first six months of 1889, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa ...	16	120	18	26	75	123	95
South-West Bengal ...	182	123	35	62	55	140	102
East Bengal ...	79	81	20	86	67	113	89
North Bengal ...	553	170	10	46	40	126	98
North Behar ...	480	200	23	40	43	162	140
South Behar ...	339	291	7	14	57	143	133
Chutia Nagpur ...	121	122	47	130	45	122	101

In the above table where the rainfall is given as a percentage of the normal in each district for the first six months of the year, it will be seen that those for North and South Behar are most in excess, and that the fall for June is generally larger, the smaller the fall was during the previous three months. The smallest is in East Bengal, where rain has been in defect for the last six months. The heavy falls in Behar during the latter half of June have caused an excess of from 30 to 40 per cent. as compared with the total fall for the year. With the exception of Chutia Nagpur and Behar, there is still a defect in every district.

Though a large average excess appears in all districts for June, a large portion of the south-easterly part of Bengal, Chittagong and the north-east corner of North Bengal are in defect. At Fenny there is a defect of over 12 inches, at Chittagong 6·5 inches, and the area of defective rainfall extends along the Sunderbuns, almost as far as the Mutla river. Backergunge and Furreedpore have received an average excess of about 4 inches. Almost all stations in Balasore are in defect from 1 to 4 inches, and in Cooch Behar and part of Western Duar large defects occur varying from 1 to 9 inches. In some other districts there are areas of defective rainfall, but only slightly so, except at Chanchal, where the defect is more than 7 inches. The largest actual excess falls are in the north of North Bengal, over the hill districts, the Torai and Julpaiguri; in East Bengal, Cuttack and along a narrow strip of country extending from Kandy in a south-westerly direction into Chutia Nagpur. As compared with the normal falls, the excess in North Behar is large over the greater part of the district, varying between 5 inches and 10 inches. Some of the more important excess falls are Khatra 11·5 inches, Dacca 10·5, Jamalpore 12·5, Netrokona 19·6, Nattoro 11·4, Rungpore 10·5, Kissengunge 15·6, Godah 9·3. The falls in Pooree and Cuttack vary from 4 inches to 7 inches from the normal over the greater part of the districts.

The largest falls have been in Rungpore, Julpaiguri Duars, and Mymensingh; Netrokona reports 38, Dowangunj 30, Thakurgaon 35, Julpaiguri 33, Bhogotpore 38, Mickligunge 36·7, Buxa 37·7, Siliguri and Darjeeling 31, Kissengunge 30, and Kurseong 33·7 inches. The falls in Behar vary from 6 inches at Gopalgunge to 30 inches at Kissengunge, but generally lie between 10 and 15 inches. In South Behar falls are nearly all between 10 and 15 inches, but a few are under 5 inches, Mohania 2·80, Aurungabad 4, and Daudnagar 4·2 inches. The largest in South Behar is 16 inches at Godah. In Chutia Nagpur, excepting Chyebassa, Jhalda and Chas, which report about 16 inches, falls are all about 10 inches. In the southern districts of North Bengal falls lie between 10 and 20 inches, and to the north between 25 and 35 inches. In East Bengal the falls are very uniform, generally not differing much from 20 inches. In South-West Bengal and Orissa, with the exception of Balasore, where some stations received less than 5 inches, the falls are generally between 10 and 15 inches.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall of the month of June in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall of the past 18 years. The second column district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall.

CALCUTTA, the 9th July 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 5TH OF JULY 1889.

At the close of the previous week, and for the first two or three days of the present week, the meteorological conditions over the province were fairly normal for the season. On Saturday, the 29th of June, pressure had risen slowly over the whole province, and had become moderately in excess of the normal. Winds were south-westerly at the extreme western stations in the province; they were southerly in South Bengal, south-easterly in East Bengal, and easterly in Behar, so that there was a feeble tendency to circulation round the centre of the province. Moderate to heavy rain was also falling in all districts except Orissa. The changes on the following day were small only, and had caused no practical alteration in the general conditions. On the 1st of July a rapid fall of pressure had taken place, in some cases amounting to a tenth of an inch, and pressure had become somewhat low over Behar and parts of North and Central Bengal, while winds showed a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation over Central Bengal and the southern parts of Behar. Rainfall again continued general, but the amounts reported were rather smaller than on the previous days. Pressure again fell, the fall being rapid in some cases, and by the morning of the 2nd July a distinct but feeble barometric depression had formed over Western Bengal, the centre of which was probably near Bankoorah, and round this station as a centre a very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds existed, the wind directions at almost every station in the province forming part of this circulation. Very heavy rain fell over the area affected by the depression, and particularly at the stations in the centre of the province and in South-West Bengal. The small depression then commenced to move in a westerly direction, and on the morning of the 3rd July its centre was in Chutia Nagpur, probably not very far from Ranchi, and again the cyclonic circulation of winds was clearly marked so far as could be determined from the stations reporting. The depression, perhaps, on this day had, if anything, decreased in intensity, as a general rise of pressure had been reported, though the rise was very small in Chutia Nagpur. Again rather heavy rain fell on this day at the western and south-western stations. The depression then continued to advance in a westerly direction, and on the 4th its centre was near Saugor (Central Provinces), and the cyclonic circulation of winds attending it had ceased to affect Bengal, where winds became of almost normal character. Owing to the indraught towards the advancing storm, winds were fairly strong at the western stations, and moderately heavy rain was again brought up. On the morning of the 5th the small depression had again moved forward, and it was near Ajmere, but on this day it had become more feeble and was apparently filling up. Conditions on this day also remained practically normal in Bengal, but rainfall was most decidedly lighter than it had previously been in Orissa, South-West Bengal, East Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar, where a considerable proportion of stations reported no rain at all; but, on the other hand, very heavy rain was falling in North Bengal and in some parts of North Behar. Conditions have therefore again been very favourable for rainfall for the greater part of the week under review, and all districts, except Orissa and North Behar, report falls rather largely in excess of the normal.

Pressure.—Was, as stated above at the commencement of the week, rather largely in excess of the normal, and notwithstanding the formation and advance of the feeble depression through the west of the province, the mean pressure for the week has been in excess of the normal at all stations. The excess pressure both in Bengal and Assam usually ranges from 0·05 inch to 0·07 inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the copious rainfall during the week, the mean temperature has been below the normal in all districts, the defects ranging from 0·4° in Orissa up to 2° in South Behar, and 2·2° in Chutia Nagpur. In Assam, however, temperature has been almost absolutely normal for the period.

Rainfall.—The average district rainfalls have ranged from about four and a quarter to nearly five inches in Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal, North Bengal and East Bengal, and from three and a half inches in South Behar to a fall of about two inches in Orissa. The actual average falls are nearly two inches in excess of the normal in South-West Bengal, and about one and a half inches in excess in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. In North Bengal and South Behar the actual falls are about an inch in excess of the normal for the period. In the other two districts the falls have been somewhat in defect. North Behar has received a fall of 2·65 inches, or about half an inch in defect of the normal, while in Orissa the average fall has been only 1·99 inches, or nearly an inch in defect of the normal. The falls have however, been somewhat unequally distributed in certain cases. Thus, while East Bengal generally has received a rather excessive fall, the Chittagong Hill Tracts have only received about a fourth of the usual fall. In North Bengal again the falls have generally been in excess, while the district of Pubna has only received little more than half the usual fall, and Maldah about two-thirds of the normal amount. Durbhanga, Sarun and Patna are also districts of slightly defective falls, surrounded by districts where the falls have been in rather large excess.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 5th of July 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph. The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during month ended 25th May 1889.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was an increase in the weight of upwards despatches, attended with a slight decrease in earnings, and this was due to improved demands from Foreign Railways. The decrease in earnings was due to reduced rates now charged for State Railway coal. The satisfactory increase in the downwards traffic is chiefly due to larger takings of Indian coal by steamers.

Wheat.—This increase was due to larger despatches via Moghalsarai, and from Aligarh, Kharja, Ghaziabad and via Delhi to Howrah owing to a good demand in the Calcutta market.

Gram and pulses.—The increase under this head was chiefly in despatches from Delhi, Shikohabad Hathras, and Cawnpore, and other long distance stations to Howrah principally for local consumption.

Other rain and spring crops.—This was principally in despatches of oats and other grains from Bhagulpore on the loop line, and from Patna to meet a demand in Calcutta.

Minerals.—Chiefly in lime from Oudal and Katal to Howrah in connection with the Kidderpore dock-works.

Brass and copper.—Due to increased despatches chiefly from Howrah in response to a demand from Mirzapore, Cawnpore, Delhi, and other Punjab marts.

Railway material, Foreign.—Due to larger despatches of material via Jubbulpore to Maukapore for the Indian Midland Railway, and to Asansole from Howrah for the Bengal, Nagpore Railway.

Saltpetre.—Chiefly composed of despatches from the Tirhoot State Railway via Mokamah Ghât, Patna, and via Moghalsarai to Howrah to meet a demand in Calcutta.

Stone.—This is a continuation of the increases previously reported.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—This increase was principally in despatches from Arrah via Digha Ghât, via Aligarh, via Ghaziabad and via Delhi to Howrah to the Great Indian Peninsula Railway via Jubbulpore and to stations on the Bombay-Baroda and Central India Railway via Hathras.

Tobacco.—Chiefly in despatches from the Tirhoot State Railway via Mokamah Ghât and from Barh.

DECREASES.

Cotton.—Due to considerable despatches of cotton kuppas from Howrah to Ferozabad last year: this year none were sent. The season may now be said to have closed.

Piece-goods, European.—The falling off was chiefly in despatches from Howrah to stations on the R and B districts, and also to Cawnpore and Delhi, and this can only be ascribed to the disinclination of cultivators to buy owing to failure of their crops.

Fruits, other kinds.—Due to a falling off in the despatches of betelnut from Howrah.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—There was an increase in the weight carried, attended with a decrease in the earnings, and the former is due to short haul despatches from the Burdwan and Rancegunge districts to Calcutta: the decrease in earnings is attributable to larger despatches last year to up-country stations from the loop line.

Iron.—This decrease is due to the dullness of the Calcutta market.

Opium.—This traffic is controlled by Government, and the crop this year appear to have suffered from drought early in the season.

Ghee.—Due to falling off in despatches from Phaphund and other ghee-manufacturing stations on the D district to Howrah, owing to Calcutta obtaining its supply from stations nearer home.

Salt.—This was chiefly in the despatches from Howrah due to limited demands from Patna and stations below.

Seeds.—The decrease was chiefly in despatches of mustard and rape and other oil-seeds due to failure of crops.

Spices.—Chiefly in chillies from the Tirhoot State Railway, Mokamah, and Patna owing to a poor produce.

Gunny.—The decrease was chiefly in despatches from Howrah, Serampore, Bhadreswar, and Naihati, owing to an absence of demand.

INCREASES.

Cotton piece-goods	Tons.
350
This is a steadily increasing traffic due to a generally extending demand up-country.
Jute, screwed	729
The increase is due to ordinary fluctuations. No special cause can be assigned for it, but Serajgunge and Naraingunj contributed the greater portion.
Oilseeds	2,554
An excited market in Calcutta, resulting in an advance in the price of 6 annas per maund, has probably influenced this increase.
Railway plant and rolling-stock	5,533
Repairs and renewals.
Salt	983
This increase was in despatches from Chitpore exclusively.
Sugar	1,849
Principally in despatches upwards from A. ghât.

An error of five miles having crept into the latitudes quoted in former Notice to Mariners on this subject, No. 107 of 1889, the amended particulars are herewith republished, and the former Notice is hereby cancelled.

The following information relating to St. Lazarus bank has been received from Commander T. F. Pullen, being the result of an examination made by H. M. Surveying Vessel Stork and her boats extending over six days, from 3rd to 8th February 1889 :—

The area of the bank within the depths of 100 fathoms is of oblong shape, 11 miles long north and south, with an extreme breadth of 6 miles, and is included between the parallels of 12° 7' and 12° 17' S., and long. 41° 20' and 41° 26½' E.

The general depth was found to be under 20 fathoms, the nature of the bottom being sand and coral. The shoalest part within the depth of 10 fathoms is near the northern end of the bank, and is about 4 miles long in a north-west direction and 2 miles broad; the least depth found of 3½ fathoms being confined to a small coral patch in lat. 12° 8' S., long. 41° 21¾' E.

Beyond the depth of 100 fathoms the soundings increase rapidly; at 6 miles north-east of the shoalest part, 1080 fathoms were found, and at 14 and 25 miles eastward of the shoal part 1308 and 1131 fathoms were obtained.

A regular tide was observed when at anchor on the bank, the flood setting E.S.E. about 4 hours, and the ebb W.N.W. about 7 hours, with about half an hour slack water; the strength at springs was 2 knots; the rise and fall approximately 12 feet. It is probable that at a little distance from the bank, and when out of the influence of the tidal streams that exist upon it, the currents vary in direction and velocity at different times of the year.

Fish in abundance were caught on the bank.

Having regard to the nature of this examination as detailed by Commander Pullen, it is considered that the several shoal soundings hitherto reported on or near St. Lazarus bank fall within the area assigned to it by H. M. S. Stork.

REVISED STANDARDS FOR GIRLS' SCHOOLS AND ZENANAS.

THE Educational Conference of 1887, in preparing revised standards for girls' schools and zenanas, recommended that "at the outset, 20 lower primary, 10 upper primary, and 5 middle scholarships for girls, should be created at a yearly cost of Rs. 780, and be thrown open to competition for Calcutta and Suburbs," and that "the number of girls' scholarships for the districts of Bengal should be the subject of a future reference to Government by the Director of Public Instruction." The revised standards were sanctioned in the Government Resolution of the 13th September 1887; and Government subsequently sanctioned an expenditure of Rs. 780 a year for scholarships to girls in Calcutta and its neighbourhood, where girls' schools of an advanced type are most numerous. It has not yet, however, been possible to make similar provision for scholarships in other districts of Bengal, as recommended by the Conference, and the compulsory introduction of the new standards into those districts has necessarily been postponed. But as the new standards are a manifest improvement on the old, any school for girls that desires to adopt them may do so on the understanding that, until further orders, no scholarships are to be awarded on those standards. Inspectors of Schools are therefore authorized, should the need arise, to hold examinations in the revised standards and to issue certificates on the result. Those schools for girls that do not adopt the new standards may continue to compete in common with those for boys for the scholarships open to all. The Inspectors are requested to notice in their annual reports how far the new standards are adopted.
